SATURDAY, Aug. 18-P. M. The stock market had an active appearance this morning, and opened with a continuance of the upward feeling of vesterday afternoon, but as the call proceeded the bear clique made strong demonstrations and succeeded in checking the buoyant feeling. The nader-tow, however, was strong, and there was conpiderable disposition shown to buy on long time. This hesitancy of the market is not at all surprising, after the rapid rise of the last thirty days, and in view of the fact that the improvement was in advance of the results upon which it was based. These results are now being received, and the largely increased earnings of the Western roads can scarcely be published week after week without stimulating prices to still higher points, and extending the circle of speculation among the public. The majority of the members of the Board, as well as of the street operators, are operating for the rise, and are aided by outside speculators, but a few influential members of the Board, having a short line out, in some cases at much lower figures resist with such means as they can bring to bear, the progress of the market, and with moderate success. The elements of the market, however, favor a further rise, and unless some unexpected unfavorable event in the political or financial world occurs, the probability certainly is that the resistance to the advance will not be sufficient to arrest it. After the Board the market was rather heavy, but toward the close of business in the street. there being no second session, there was much greater firmness, although not much ac ivity. The market advanced I to I P cent, with but few stocks for sale, and closed with an upward tendency. The earnings of the Chicago and Rock Island road the second week of August give a gain of over 100 per cent. The figures are: ond week, 1860...... Do. 1819.....

The second week on the Michigan Central gives about $9,000 increase. The Barlington and Quincy is reported to give $25,000 increase.

The following are the comparative earnings of the Pacific Railread for the month ending July 31:

The July earnings of the La Crosse and Milwankee are about $35 000.

A striking illustration of the difference between periods of prosperity and those of adversity, is presented by the last annual report of the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad Company. The tables of through and way freight, show a sliding scale as follows: In 1853 the average amount received from each tun of freight was $3 78 8-10, and from that year up to April 30, 1860, the reduction was followed from year to year, until at the date mentioned it had reached the minimum of $1.85 8.100 per tun, or less than one-half the road received in 1853, and less by 61 cents per tun than it received in 1856. The average distance which each tun was carried during this time, was in 1853, 45 1-10 miles, and in 1854, 53 miles, but in 1860, it had reached an average movement of miles. The average amount received per mile during this period, from 8 38-100c, in 1853, dwindled to 2 12-100c, in 1859 and 1860, a difference of 6 26-100c. per tun per mile. There is no stronger example of the difference between a period of adversity and prosperity than is furnished by these railway statistics Under al these disadvantages the Cleveland and Toledo road earned actually about 4 per cent on its stock, after psying current expenses, interest and sinking fund. With a business at hand which will tax its actual capacity, and with a restoration of fair rates, the Toledo road should gain a net result of 7 or 8 per cent on its stock for the present year. The specie shipments to-day were $1,449,370, which is a little more than was expected. The export of specie from the port of New-York for the week ending Aug. 18, 1860, was as follows:

Aug. 14 Steamship Sexonia, Hamburg, Mexican dollars., $70,000 Aug. 15—Steamship Asia, Liverpool, Gold coin.

42,596,671 The current of specie has been against the banks during the week, and the Monday statement it is expected, will show a decrease in the specie reserve, notwithstarding the receipt of about a million from California, and a small amount gained by the street from the Sub-Treasury. The loans also, it is supposed, will show some contraction.

In money there is no change to note to-day, excepting, perhape, increased abundance. In rates the tendency, if anything, is toward lower figures. The exchanges at the Bank Clearing-house this morning were $21,738,624 65. The total exchanges for the week ending this morning were $137,006,132 50, being a daily average of $22,934,365 43, against $25,626,292 7 during the week ending on Saturday last. Mr. Haws the City Controller, invites proposals for three million dollars for the floating debt fund stock, authorized by the laws of 1860. The bids will be opened on the 18th of September, 1860. Holders of revenue bonds of th Corporation, may, at their option, make them available for the purchase of the stock. The interest will be a the rate of 6 P cent P annum, payable quarterly, and principal reimbursable on the 1st of May, 1878. The Oswego and Syracuse Railroad has declared a semiannual dividend of 3 P cent, payable on the 21st inst. by H. A. Oakley, agent, at the office Howard Insurance Co. The Bank of Louisisna, a semi-annual dividend of 5 P cent, payable to New-York stockholders, less exchange, on the 3d of September, at the Merchants' Bank of this city.

of mining news reported by her is annexed:

The Northern Iron Co.s Blast Furnace is in full blast. The charge was completed on Saturday, and the whole arrangements working admirably, making steam regularly and sufficient quantity to commence operations without using coal under the boilers, as they expected to have in getting up steam to run the engine. The first pig from was expected to be turned out of the Chocolate on Menday night.

The Philadelphia Ledger furnishes the f llowing information relative to the proposed consolidation of the Pennsylvania and Harrisburg Railroad corpora-tior a:

The Harrisburg road and its branch connect Harrisburg with Larcaster and Columbia, and is used by the Pounsylvas in Railroad Conpany, under a twenty years' lease, as a link in the through line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Harrisburg Company now maintains its organization pays satiarises to efficers, interest on its for ded debt, &c., and divides to its stockholders ten $\Phi$ count $\Phi$ amount, from the revenues derived onder its lease. This lease has some eight or ten years to run. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company thinks it pays the Harrisburg Railroad Compeny too much, and has sometimes taiked of as-aking redress for the grievance through some other outlet. Though a mutually satisfactory adjustive at has been more or less directly pressed, for the last six or eight years, nothing has been effected. It is proposed, we understand, to make the Harrisburg shares an $\Phi$ yent preferred stock taking precedence of the stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Whether this less of $\Phi$ entire them as overcome in the gracter security of an $\Phi$ cent dividend, so guaranteed, and the removal of the apprehension of a new outlet, will be matter for serious and dispassionate consideration.

Mr E. W. Fernic, one of the English directors in the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, has sailed for the Marietta and Cincinnati Rallroad, has sailed for Europe for the purpose of making a report to the English bondholders of matters connected with the recent sale of the road and the new organization of the Company. He also expects to make an arrangement for the advance of $1,000,000, to be used in putting the road in thorough condition for business.

The Philadelphia Ledger reports of the Coal trade

The Philadel ohia Leager reports of the Coal trade of the week and season:

"The weekly coal tunings is again quite large, reaching 218,306 time, increasing the tunings of the season by the sources named to 4.468,574 time, being a net excess of tunings by the same lines, to the same time lest year, of 555,325 time. Three of the sources show a falling off of 96,345 time. The business keeps up won-derfully, and, with no unforescent occurrence to the end of the year, will exceed in the aggregate the largest estimates at the opening of the season. As a natural consequence of a good demand, prices are well supported."

The following abstract of Company reports shows the coal tuninger for the week's and season, as commared.

The extension of the Dubuque and Pacific read to Cedar Falls, twenty miles west of its present terminus, and one hundred from Dubuque, is now a settled fact The work has already been commenced, and is expected to be completed in time for the Fall business of the present season. The Dubuque and Pacific Railroad rene through one of the richest and most rapidly improving sections of Iown, and the additional twenty miles now being constructed, will doubtless add largely to its receipts and give a new stimulus to emigration in that direction. Just twenty-one miles added to the southern branch of the Mil saukee and Mississippi Raitroad would form an unbroken line of railroad from Milwankee to the heart of northern Iowa. The interests of the road should prompt the Company not to delay this important work.

NEW-JERSEY ITEMS.

Collision in Min-Air.-On Saturday afternoon a machinist in Jersey City went on board of one of the ferry-boats for the purpose of crossing over to New-York; but suddenly changing his mind, he turned and made a jump for the bridge. At the same instant an old gentleman from Salterville made a leap for the boat. The two persons came in violent collision, grasped each other, and fell plamp into the river. After floundering about for a while both men were rescued by the ferry-hands, with no other damage than a bath.

STABBING AFFRAY .- On Saturday afternoon, two canal beatmen named Benjamin Trackson, white, and Samuel Wilson, colored, became engaged in an altercation at the canal basin in Jersey Gity, when the latter drew a pocket knife and stabbed Benjamin three times on the arm. Wilson was arrested by officer Valade, and was held for trial.

ROBBED AT THE MASS MEETING .- Isace Houston, butcher, doing business at the corner of Newark and Jersey avenues. Jersey City, had his wallet stolen from his paradona pocket on Friday evening, while attending the Bell and Everett ratification meeting at Metopolitan Hell, Jersey City. It contained about $50, in bills; a check for $107.50, and a note for $50. Mr. Houston supposes that the robbery was committed while he was passing through a crowd on leaving the hall.

PRIZE-RING AFFRAY. -On Thursday afternoon, five PRIZE-RING APPRAY.—On Thursday afternoon, five fellows from Millburn and Orange met in a lager beer saloon kept the method of the Orange road and the Bleomfield turrpike, where, after mature deliberation, a set to between two of the parties was agreed upon in accordance with the rules of the P. R. A ring was formed at the junction of the two roads, and the combainate, with their seconds, entered. After some forty rounds, in which occurred several knock downs, together with a copious flow of claret, it was accounced that fra Campbell, eq., the magistrate of the place, was advancing with the fortitude and courage of one clothed with authority. He control the control of the place, which was promptly readered, and the whole party were taken before Justice Misthews, and sech committed to the County Jail is default of bail. They gave their names as Timethy Callighan, James McGarrick, Michael McCornac, Michael O'Donnell, and Themas J. Mattin. Much complicit has existed for some time concerning flecker's place, which is said to be a low drinking saloon, and the authorities will now andeavor to break it up as a disorderly house.

REFRESHMENT CARS .- The Central Railroad of New Jersey have introduced a new feature in their management, which seems calculated to afford counfort and refershment to travelers. They have paced raserund cars in some of the trains, where passengers may provide themselves with the necessary calibles for the trip without trouble. As several accidents have coursed on the various railroad lines to persons who had aligned for refreshments, this will be a welcome arrangement.

GALE AT THE SOUTH.

From The N. O. Picayune, Aug. 14. The storm on Saturday at one point has been, we are pained to say, attended with terrible disaster.

Along the coast of Lake Pontchartrain the damage to water craft, wharves, &c., has been great, but for tupately no loss of life has reached us. Unhappily, not so in regard to Proctorville, on Lake Borgne, which from the direction of the wind, must have been exposed from the direction of the wind, must have been exposed to the full fury of the gale, for the town has been swept away; thirty-two persons are known to have perished, and in all probability many more lives have been lost. The storm raged Friday night and Saturday, and at 3 o'clock that afternoon not a house in Proctorville was standing. Every tree, shrub, dwelling, and store was swept off, and nothing but the Government fort withsteed wind and water. It is shocking, and store was awept on, and anothing of the store was awept on, and anothing of the store with stood wind and water. It is shocking to think of the loss of life at this locality; husbands, and wives, and children, carried into eternity by the part in the matter, and soveral old gentlemen, whose lodgings. Twenty-five persons were found in the pitiless waters. Below we publish a list of the victims, as full as we could ascert sin it this forenoon:

W. F. Wills, of New York; Mrs. W. Wills, one child, Miss Bertsan; couns of the Wills; servant name unknown; — Fargo, Mrs. Fargo, and six children; — Limerick, and three children; — Nichoison, and three children; — watchoas his wife and one child, same not known; — Combray, the lighthouse keeper; Mr. Wells and family, five souls in all; the backseper of Ramoris ceffectorse, name not known; a colored boy, name not known; and several fishermen; in all, between thirty and forty lives lost.

CITY ITEMS.

AMUSEMENTS.-We are in the closing weeks of the Summer season, and have consequently to report " nothing new."

At Laura Keene's, "Our American Cousin" attracte excellent houses, and is to run the week and season through. Nixon rejoices in the Circus, which attracts good houses. To-night, Mr. Tem Hanlon reappears on the Perilons Ladder. He has entirely recovered from the effects of his fall. Zoyara and the entire troupe appear nightly. "Cinderella" is still demanded by the public. Florence gives to-night "Irish Assurance" and "Working the Oracle." Last Thursday night, Mrs. Florence had a benefit of the most substantial character, there being very near $1,000 in the treasury-a larger sum than ever before taken in one night at Wallack's Theater. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and Mrs. F. was most enthusiastically applanded encored, and called out. It was a well-de served triumph. At the New Bowery, Mr. Eddy has done a fine basi ness. He continues three nights longer. This evening, "Joseph and his Brethren," and "Raffaels the Reprobate," with a farce.

The Ravels farewelled all the week to full house. and really bowed their adieux on Saturday night. This evening the Winter Garden becomes a Psychomantheum, and Prof. Anderson begins his Magical Soirces, which, if within reasonable distance of his astonishing advertisements, will be worth seeing.

Hooley and Campbell's Minstrels offer an interesting programme for the levers of Ethiopian fun. The house is comfortable, and the performance enjoyable. Barnum's Museum is constantly receiving new accessions from all parts of the world, and has now the greatest collection of things worth seeing to be found in America. The Wren Family occupy the stage this week.

Adah Isaacks Menken advertises a Shakesperian and Peetical Reading at Hope Chapel to-night.

Among the Pictures now on exhibition, we observe the Du-selforf Gallery collection, Brown's "Bay and City of New-York at Sunrise," and the International Art Union.

At the Palace Garden there will be through th week the usual varied and interesting performances. Messrs. Wheatley and Clarke of the Arch-street Theater, are first in the field of theatrical enterprize in Philadelphia, this season. The success of their mausgement suffers no abatement by the lapse of time, and with a theater freshly appointed, and equal in comfort and elegance to any in the Quaker City, and a capital regular company, beside a fine series of " star" engagements, the prospect was never brighter. The house opened on Saturday night. Bourcicault's 'Vanity Fair" will be produced this evening. The company includes Messrs. Chippendale, Shewell. Lewis Baker Wheatlee and J. S. Clarke; Mrs. John Drew, and Misses Mary Wells, late of Laura Keene's, Emma Taylor, and Rose Skerrett.

THE DRUNK AND DISORDERLIES .- We object most decidedly to the manner in which those degraded women who are classed as 'Tombs Revolvers' are transferred from the City Prison to Blackwell's Island. It is right and proper that the Commissioners of Public Charities and Corrections should require those unfortunates who are committed to prison for drunkenness to serve their time at the Workhouse. Such proceeding not only relieves the Tombs from its crowd of prison ers, but makes the drunkards useful. But there is no necessity for outraging public decency while transferring them from one prison to another. These women are ranged in the prison-yard every morning in double file, when, having answered to the roll-call, they are marched off, to the number of fifteen, twenty, and sometimes as high as fifty, with a body guard of a tendant policemen. Many of them have scarcely sufficient clothing upon them to hide their nakedness, and no covering whatever can conceal the traces of their recent debauches. Up through Chatham street and East Broadway to the foot of Grand street is the line of march, and there they are forwarded by steamer to their island retreat. Street rowdies jeer at them, and small boys follow in the rear of the procession with hoots and yells. Pedestrians are shocked by the obscene and profane remarks of the utterly abandoned among the women, who do not shrink on some occa- juries received by being crashed by an iron beam in sions from the most indecent demonstrations while on front of the premisess No. 201 Centre street. The the march. Sorrowing humanity hides its head in shame at such outrages on public decency, and cries aloud for their suppression. Scenes of this kind only serve to harden those unfortunates in the procession who are not already entirely lost. Having been once dragged thus through the streets, they are apt to lose what little self-respect remained. If we have such iniquity among us, it is scarcely necessary to make a spectacle of it, and thrust it upon the sight and under the nostrils of both citizens and strangers. We hope the Board of Commissioners will hereafter provide some vehicular means of transit for these wretched

SUICIDE BY HANGING .- Coroner Jackman yesterday eld an inquest at the Water-Cure establishment No. 15 Laight street, on the body of Mrs. Isabella Tukey. The husband of the deceased testified that she had bee very despondent of late in consequence of protracted sickness, and had often threatened to commit suicide. On Saturday morning he left her as well as usual, and proceeded to his place of business. On returning home at noon he found his wife suspended by the neck to a cord attached to a nail in the wall of her bedroom. Life was extinct when he discovered her. The Jury returned a verdict of suicide by hanging, while laboring under mental derangement. Deceased was a native of this country, and 30 years of age.

STREET PREACHERS .- Edward Faulkner and John Glover, having attempted to deliver temperance addresses in the park vesterday forenoon, were arrested and taken before Justice Kelley. It not appearing that either had committed a breach of the peace, their only offense having been the collection of an orderly crowd, they were immediately discharged from cas-

THE NEW-YORK FRENCH ZOUAVE CORPS. -Pursuant to acjournment, a large number of our French citia zens assembled at the Mercer House on Saturday night for the purpose of perfecting the plan for a military organization similar to the Zouaves of France. Major Le Chrc, under whose auspices the arrange ments thus far have been made, occupied the chair, The greater portion of the evening was spent in discarsing how, and in what manner, and apon what tasis the organization should be effected. Upon the report of the Committee on Uniform it was unanimously agreed to adopt the full dress Zonave uniform which consists of navy blue poncho jackets, trimmed with scarlet, blue shirts and sashes, blue turban for full dress, and for fatigue the red Fez cap, with blue tassel. The pantaloons will be made of scarlet cloth, to reach to the knee, yellow leggins, and heavy shoes, to lace up in front.

Among the company were three or four old soldiers who were formerly attached to Zouaves in the French army, and took part in several engagements. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and all present expressed themselves in favor of the movement. The roll was signed by about eighty persons, and after another meeting on Saturday evening next, to act upon the reports of the Standing Committees, the corps will perfect themselves in the drill. The corps will be attached to the 55th Regiment (Garde Lafayette) and will be a valuable addition to the First Division New-the organization by contributions.

BURTON'S CHAMPION HOOK AND LADDER TRUCK

AND FIRE ESCAPE. - Every one in the habit of attending fires, must have observed that the ladder trucks are frequently unequal to the emergencies of the case, and that much precious time is lost in placing the ladders and elevating the hose, the flames meanwhile becoming more and nore difficult of control. It is believed that this want may be supplied by Burton's newlyinvented truck and fire secaps, patented the 7th of Auguet; and as a deep interest must be felt in anything that promises to be a real improvement on the old method of extinguishing fires and saving property, we append a descrip ion of the machine, a model of which may be seen at No. 251 Broadway. It bears no resemblance to any invention designed for a similar purpose. It consists of three combined folding ladders, and three or more short detached ladders, to be used for platforms on the main ladders, or for other purposes. The two main ladders, which are about fifty feet in length, cross each other near the center, and are connected togsther, and also to the two trucks, in such a manner that by pushing the trucks together the ladders are elevated, taking the form of the letter X, and by polling the trucks apart the ladders are lowered. By he aid of circular platforms, which project beyond the sides of the wheels, forming the guides for the rings to which the pivots are secured, which form the bearings for the lower ends of the ladders, a good, substantial basis is made for the ladders, at the same time allowing the trucks to turn independently of them. The ladders are elevated by blocking one of the trucks, and drawing the other up to it by hand. The top ladder, which is to be made of iron, so that it can be thrust through the flame, if necessary, is folded over, by means of a rope, by men standing on the ground. The main ladder is intended to reach to the fifth-story window of a tenement house, or about fifty-five feet, and the top ladder to the seventh-story roof, or seventy-five feet. But, of course, their hight can be graduated by separating the trucks, so as to reach any window of a building. If necessary to change its position, it can be done as readily as four men could move an ordinary twentyfeet ladder, and this without taking it down. It is claimed that it will stand clear of a building and support twenty-five or thirty men on the platforms and ladders, and also that the top ladder will sustain nearly a tun without resting against the building or moving the trucks below. A length of hose is stretched permanently on the ladders, and a stream of water can be got on the roof or on any story of a building in three minutes from the time of getting the machine on the ground. It will thus be seen that this machine can be need with great advantage at all fires for the purpose of elevating hose. A sheet-iron bucket, of sufficient capacity to hold four grown persons, is attached to the topmost ladder, and by means of a rope and pulley, can be hoisted to the roof or any of the windows, to rescue sick or disabled persons. One peculiar advantage of this invention is that after persons have been rescued and placed upon the platforms, it can be hauled out into the street, where they may descend at leisure. The truck can be used in any street, and occupies but little room when elevated. It runs very easily, will turn the shortest corner, and requires about the same number of men to man it as the common truck now in use. It contains all the apportenances of other trucks, and when the ladders are folded down, will go into any truck-house. We understand it has been given in charge of Chief-Engineer Decker, for him to build one on trial if the Fire Commissioners so decide when the matter comes before them at their first meeting in

THE BROADWAY ARSON CASE .- Wm. H. Purley, who is charged, in connection with Wm. G. Lambert with setting fire to a cigar and liquor store occupied by the former, at No. 869 Broadway, on the 22d of April last, was arrested on Friday night. Justice Kelly held him to bail to answer in the sum of $10,000. Lambert was required to give the same amount of bail on Friday. The substance of the evidence against the accused was published in The TRIBUNE on Saturday morning.

MANSLAUGHTER.-Coroner Schirmer on Saturday held an inquest on the body of Francis Nowotny, aged 8 years, whose parents reside at No. 115 Hester street. On Friday evening the deceased, wish other children, was playing upon a pile of massive iron columns in front of the Excelsior Iron Works, No. 201 Centre street, when one of the columns rolled from the pile, throwing the deceased down, and crushing him to death instantly. After hearing the evidence in the case, the Jury rendered the following verdict of censure: "That deceased came to his death from in-Jary censure the proprietors of the Excelsior Iron Works for their culpable carelessness in allowing said beam to be placed so as to have created the aforesaid The proprietors of this establishment, G. injuries." R. Jackson & Co., have long been in the habit of obstructing the sidewalk, and even the street, with iron columns, beams, and articles used in the foundery, to such a degree that it is sometimes almost impossible to get by. Their foundery extends through to Elm street, and here they have a complete monopoly of the sidewalk. Huge iron columns are piled up one on top of the other, while workmen are engaged in cleaning up others that are stretched across the pavement. Sometimes six or eight of their workmen are employed in the street at one time on various massive pieces of iron, and the dust and dirt they scatter about nake the place a nuisance. Why are they allowed to ccupy the etreet for manufacturing purposes? and why are they not accountable for any accident that nay occur in consequence of the obstructions they place there? If they must lumber up the sidewalk with their wares, they should at least have the humanity to so place them that they will not become traps in which to catch and kill inuocent children.

DESCENT UPON TWO NOTORIOUS DISORDELY HOUSES.

-Between 12 and 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, upon warrant issued by Justice Kelly of the Lower Police Court, Officer McCore, assisted by Sergeant Londer of the Fourth Precinct, with a platoon of twenty-five men, made a descent upon the alleged disorderly onsee Nos. 17 and 19 New Bowery, known as the Mansion House" and "Central House." The buildnge are six stories in hight, and are laid off in each tory in small lodging rooms, with little window openings in the hall for the purpose of light and ventilation. These rooms are rented to dissolute and dishouest men and vile women or girls at 25 cents per night. For a long time past both houses have been a pest to the police, and disturbances therein between nen and women were of frequent occurrence. Under the directions of Sergeant Louder, the police quietly left the Station-House in citizens' dress, and proceeded about 121 o'clock to the New Bowery. The buildings were surrounded by a portion of the force, while the remainder hastily entered the houses, and, bursting into the rooms, arrested every person found in them. The scene that ensued can be better imagined than described. The inmates, many of whom were aroused from sound sleep, ran screaming into the halls, when they were seized by the officers. After obtaining their clothes, they were marched to the Station-House, and committed to the cells. The women were of a low class, and many of them seemed to think the affair a good joke. The inmates of the Central House, who were brought in first, were quite jolly over the matter, and laughed and talked about the Station-House; their only seeming regret was that they had lost their lodging money. Most of the men who were found in these houses did not evince any particular anxiety about the matter, but went to the cells without uttering a complaint. All sorts of pleas were made by some of them: one had just stepped in to get a drink; another lived in the upper part of the city, and had taken lodgings there in order to meet a boat at 6 o'clock; another had lost a friend by death, age would precinde them, expressed a desire to assist | Central House. Among them were an old men and an old woman, each about 60 years of age. Several who showed that they had gone there only to obtain a lodging, were allowed to depart. The girls were between 15 and 25 years of age, and with one or two exceptions were shabbily dressed. Two girls, 15 years of age, when asked what they did for a living, said they were "married." Nearly all had come trade. About fifty were taken from the Mansion House, but only forty men and women were locked up, the remainder showing that they had gone there to obtain lodging. Next morning the whole of them were taken to the Police Court. The women were sent to the Island, and the men discharged.

> IN THE TOMBS -The number of persons committed to the Tombs by Justice Kelly, for the week ending at noon yesterday, was 769. These were all sent from the Tombs Police Court alone. Jefferson and Essex Market Courts furnished together about an equal number, so that the average commitments during a single week amounts to about 1,500 persons. A majority of these are for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and assault and battery. The large number of commitments from the s is owing to the fact that the arrests in the lower wards of the city, including the Five Points, are all disposed of at that court.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.-Last week showed a diminution of the number of deaths from the week previous of about 170, and more than 200 less than the corresponding week of last year. Of consumption, there was a falling off of between 40 and 50 from the week before, when the number was 89-more than in any other week during the year. Of children under one year of age, the number was reduced some 75, while there were 40 less in the public institutions than lest

FOR EUROPE.-The United States mail steamer Arago, Capt. Lines, left on Saturday afternoon for Sou hampton and Havre, with 87 passengers and $698,-150 in specie. The British steamer Kangaroo, Capt. Brooks, left the same day, with 26 cabin passengers and 147 in the steerage. She has $738,310 in specie.

THE SWANS. - The three survivors of the Hamburg swans, two males and one female, are in a healthy condition. The Central Park Commissioners some time ago received notice from Mr. H. R. Kunhardt, acting United States Consul at Hamburg, that the authorities of that city would, upon receiving notice of the number and sex of the survivors, send on another detachment to make up the original number. Notice was sent forthwith, and it is expected that the nine new swans will arrive a month or two hence.

RECEPTION OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.—It is stated that the Mayor will assume the entire control of all municipal courteries, and in accordance with his idea, and with those of the Citizen's Committee. There is to be no formal public reception; there will, however, be a full display of military, and it is said the Fire De partment will indulge in a torch-light procession. All British merchant vessels within reasonable distance will be invited to rendezvous at New-York, while the British North American fleet, consisting of eleven vessels, will also pay us a visit. The banquet to be given in the Academy of Music will be on a more extensive and magnificent scale than usual.

SIXTEENTH WARD .- By our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Republicans of the Sixteenth Ward held a meeting on Saturday evening, organized a Wide-Awake Club, and elected Gen. J. H. Hobart Ward Captain 'a strong guaranty of the success of the Club). Mr. H. N. Sherwood was elected President, Mr. Chas. A. Clark Secretary, and Mr. Wm. Octon Tressurer, with an array of the most respectable names in the Ward as Vice-Presidents and other officers.

The Public Stores.—Business in the Public Stores is much duller this season than during the same months last year. In July, 1859, the amount of packages received was 17, 185, while last mouth they only numbered about 14,000. The same ratio is observed in the present month. Since the work of cartage and handling of the packages in the Broad street house was given by contract to Mesers. McIntire, Bixby & Co., in the month of September last, the labor has been carried on with all its former efficiency, and the number of hands employed very materially decreased. Only about a hundred men are now employed in the handling of packages, they being engaged by the contractors, and not awarded places for their political services as formerly. The amount received by the contractors is $120,000 per annum.

Thus far in the present year, no single packages have been received of as great value as some which passed through the hands of the officials last year. Last year one package of diamonds and pearls was received, of the value of $50,000. This year no packages have been received of more than $20,000. Thread lace is an article second only in value to the diamonds and precious cle second only in value to the diamonds and precious stones, and of it but one very large consignment has been received this year. It was valued at 300,000 francs, about $57,000. Few cases of smuggling are discovered, and it is thought that but few occur. Some time since, however, one of the examiners discovered a case of diamonds, valued at $10,000, neatly inclosed. in a small cavity scooped out of the bettom of a case containing some common goods. The diamonds were seized, but upon bringing the case into Court, the claimants were allowed to prove that this was the way in which diamends were sent into Russia, and on this plea they regained possession of their property.—[Sua.

CORRECTION -It was stated in THE TRIBUNE of Saturday, that a flag staff upon the building. No. 74 Chutham Street, had auddenly dropped through six floors and as many cellings to the cellar beneath. We are now informed that this descent was neither abrupt nor accidental. The staff was taken down by the proprietor, for the purpose of reducing the weight of the rooste which stood upon its top, and has now been reinstated in its proper position.
